THE PEOPLES' COLUMN

A hick town is a place where the tourists get arrested for speeding.
—J. Sam Miller in Mineral Wells Index.

Which is not far from right in our editorial opinion. He who would arrest transients in our little city for violation of the traffic laws, the text of which are not known to strangers, should first be willing to pay the price and say, "Guilty, Judge," when corrected for violating the laws in some other city for the same reason. He who cries "Stop! Thief!" is usually the first to be suspicious and let us refrain from placing ourselves in a position to be criticized.

Presbyterian Men Of the Church In Meeting Tuesday

About twenty of the Presbyterian "Men of the Church" met in regular meeting last night in the Sunday School annex. The monthly meeting is usually held the second Tuesday but because of the inclement weather at that time it was postponed one week. However, nothing was lost by the postponement, except that it necessitated the absence of the President and Vice-President, and the meeting was ably presided over by F. D. Fuller. At the September meeting Major L. L. McInnis suggested that the Presbyterian men of the A. and M. College faculty be invited as guests at the next meeting which was accordingly done and a number of them were present last night.

Book Is Reviewed.

The subject of the meeting was "Home Missions" and the main numbers on the program were a review of the book "Out of the Wilderness," given by Mr. Fuller, and an address on the subject of Home Missions as applying to the A. and M. College, given by Dean F. C. Bolton.

Prior to the rendering of the above program the ladies of the church served most ample and appetizing "cents" and a highly appreciated musical program was given, consisting of vocal solos and encores by Miss Mildred Salley and violin solos and encores by Richard Grant, each being accompanied by Mrs. Roy Danforth at the piano and who also gave some individual piano selections.

Meet November 10th.

The next meeting will be the tenth of November, at which time the subject of stewardship or the aims of man along the lines of acquiring and using will be considered. A special program is being prepared and all the men of the Presbyterian church are urged to be present.

Campus Study Club In 'As You Like It' Show Real Talent

One of the most artistic and delightful club affairs of the year was enjoyed on Tuesday afternoon at College, when the Campus Study Club presented the Second Act of the Shakespearean drama, "As You Like It," at the Assembly Hall at 3:45 o'clock. The club women of Bryan were invited to attend, and there were many who availed themselves of the delightful opportunity, enjoyed a real feast of artistic talent, well rendered. The program of the hour opened with a solo from Act Five, "A Lover and His Lass," given by Mrs. T. W. Leland. Piano solo Mendelssohn's Overture to the Midsummer Night's Dream, by Mrs. E. M. Regenbrecht. Mrs. M. Francis then read a delightful paper, "William Shakespeare, the World's Dramatist." After these introductory numbers followed the play, with the following cast of character, in costume, and rendering their lines with such fascinating and artistic ability as to charm the large audience from the rise of the curtain throughout the entire program: Touchstone, Mrs. F. B. Clark; Corin, Mrs. R. J. Dunn; Orlando, Mrs. J. L. Lush; Rosalind, Mrs. E. B. Reynolds; Celia, Mrs. R. F. Pearson; Jacques, Mrs. F. O. Martin.

VISITING DALLAS FAIR

Mr. and Mrs. J. Webb Howell went to Dallas today to visit the big fair. They will also visit Mr. Howell's sister, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Eastham and family at Waxahatchie, before returning to Bryan.

SPEAKER WILL CALL SESSION IF GOVERNOR DOESN'T! TEXAS STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION IS CHARGED WITH SQUANDERING MONEY

Reckless and Inconsistent Expenditures State Funds by Commission is Chief Reason For Statement of Speaker Lee Satterwhite That He Will Call Special Session if Governor Ferguson Does Not Do So—Charges Made That Three Members of Commission Are Close Friends of Former Governor Jim Ferguson Who Is Responsible for Their Acts—New Jersey Corporation Making Huge Profits From Sub-Letting Road Contracts.

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 21.—The past week's agitation centering around charges of reckless and inconsistent expenditures of State Highway Department funds, probably will result in a special session of the Texas Legislature for a thorough investigation of the State administration. Speaker Lee Satterwhite of the House declared last night at Washington that he will call a special session if Governor Miriam Ferguson did not. The Speaker intimated, however, he would await the result of the investigation being conducted by Attorney General Dan Moody before calling the session. Satterwhite, in discussing the charges, said the Highway Commission, named last February by Governor Ferguson, as one of its first acts was to award the contract for maintenance of 1,000 miles of highways to the American Road Company, a New Jersey corporation, which has sub-let all of its contracts. It has been alleged that, although it has not expended a single cent on road work, its profits are enormous.

FERGUSON'S FRIENDS.

Three members of the commission are close friends of the governor's husband, James E. Ferguson, and it has been openly charged, Satterwhite added, that he is responsible for their acts. It is asserted that state money is being wasted in enormous sums and a demand has been made that the lower house assemble to investigate these charges. Under the law a special session of the House can be called by the Speaker on petition of 50 members, should the Governor refuse to act. Another reason advanced for the special session is to vote an appropriation to fight the foot and mouth disease in South Texas. The opinion has been expressed in some quarters that this would be the only legal way the money could be appropriated.

Right "Wrongs"

In urging Governor Miriam A. Ferguson to remedy "wrongs," E. L. Covey, of Goree, state representative from the 114th district, charged irregularities in maintenance work in Knox county by the State Highway Commission. A copy of a letter addressed Monday to the Governor was made public today, answering an inquiry as to whether he favored a special session of the legislature.

TEXAS-AGGIE GAME TICKETS SELLING FAST

(Special to the Eagle).

AUSTIN, Oct. 21.—Tickets for the Texas-A. and M. game Thanksgiving have been sold so rapidly that the comparatively few seats left are on the ten yard line and behind the goals, according to Wiley Glaze in charge of the University of Texas' part of the tickets. Students' tickets are to go on sale three days before the game, Glaze stated. The same enthusiasm has been shown for the University of Texas-S. M. U. game with only the seats at the ends of the fields being available at this time, he said.

PRESIDENT CALVIN COOLIDGE ORDERS COURT MARTIAL FOR STORM CENTER, COL. MITCHELL

(By Associated Press).

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—What is believed to be the highest ranking court martial ever assembled for trial of an army officer in the grade of colonel was ordered Tuesday by direction of President Calvin Coolidge to convene in Washington, October 28.

On that date or as soon after as possible, Colonel William Mitchell, storm center of the air service controversy, will be brought before the court on charges of specific violation of the ninety-sixth article of war.

Under the provisions of this article, conviction could, in the discretion of the court, be made punishable by dismissal from the army. Presidential approval, however, would be required before such a verdict could be put into effect.

All Are Senior Officers.

Secretary Dwight Davis is credited with having picked the members of the court himself. All of them are senior in point of service, and all hold medals of honor, or distinguished service crosses, or medals. The court was composed by special effort only of officers free from duties connected with the war department and general staff administration.

Mr. Davis' action came as the culmination of several years of disagreement between Colonel Mitchell and war department officials and general staff officers over policies connected with the administration of the air service. It was precipitated, however, by the recent statement in which the Colonel, then on duty with the Eighth Corps Area headquarters at San Antonio, Texas, sensationally charged that the conduct of the war and navy departments in certain air functions had been "almost treasonable," and criminally negligent.

On Military Basis.

While the war department withheld the specifications of the charge from publication so they might be read first before the court in accordance with custom, it is more than probable that Colonel Mitchell will be judged on evidence presented to show that he has conducted himself "to the prejudice of good order and military discipline."

ENGINEER OF HIGHWAY DEPT. QUILTS HIS JOB

(By Associated Press).

WACO, Oct. 21.—H. C. Porter, engineer of division No. 9, Highway Department, with headquarters here, Tuesday afternoon announced his resignation, which becomes effective Nov. 1. Acceptance of the resignation was received Tuesday from the Highway Department.

In a statement made public by Porter, he said: "The organization which I undertook to build up two years ago has been disorganized from time to time by the State Highway Department in removing competent and efficient men, without apparent cause or reason."

Porter said that on Oct. 15 he was notified that W. H. Wood, maintenance superintendent in the Ninth District, would be removed effective Nov. 1, and that he knew of no reason for Wood's removal.

In the Ninth District are embraced the counties of Bosque, Coryell, Hill, Freestone, Navarro and Limestone, in which are about 800 miles of designated state highways.

Two Members Introduced At Lions Meeting

E. L. Gibson and V. R. Smith, both taking city manager courses at A. and M. College, were taken into the Bryan Lions Club at the regular meeting on Tuesday night. Other visitors present were: Coaches D. X. Bible, J. R. Bender, H. H. House, Frank Anderson, of A. and M. College, and O. B. Shaefer, the expert electrician who has been installing the new X-ray machine in the offices of Doctors Searcy & Wilkerson.

Coch Anderson delivered the principal address of the meeting, telling of his experiences at the Olympic games and discussing athletics in general, giving the Englishman's attitude as not out to win but to enjoy the sport. D. X. Bible talked briefly on "Clean Sportsmanship," and took issue with Coach Anderson, saying that he wanted his men to go into every game to win if possible by any fair and legal means within the bounds of gentlemanly conduct.

That, in his opinion, was clean sportsmanship. To be a good loser is not necessarily a good sportsman, he said, unless the loser had first made every fair effort to win.

The program was spicy, peppy and the songs lively. Miss Erin Jolly delighted those present with two vocal solos.

ALL-DAY MEET NEXT SUNDAY AT ALEXANDER

An all-day meeting will be held on next Sunday at the Alexander Methodist church which is closing out its 8th year. Sunday is to be Rally Day when people who belong to this church and former members will gather for a day of celebration, a basket dinner to be enjoyed on the ground at noon. A record of which all are proud has been made by this church in that during all these years they have always come to conference with full reports. This year has been especially good despite poor crop conditions. The stewards say that all finances will be up in full when the pastor goes to conference on the 11th of November. The Sunday School has done some excellent work and several families of the community are on the attendance honor roll.

Miss Susie Benbow is the efficient Sunday School Superintendent and Mr. Wilson is president of the Epworth League which meets every Sunday evening at 7:30. The League and Sunday School are doing very fine work and the church has had a good revival this year with a daily vacation Bible school. On next Sunday the year's work will be closed and plans made for the coming fiscal year. All former members and friends of the church are invited to meet with the present membership on next Sunday, to bring well filled baskets and enjoy a pleasant and profitable day.

A. & M. CHEMISTRY DEPARTMENT PURCHASES SMALL COMPLETE PLANT TO REFINE COTTON OIL

(Special to the Eagle).

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 21.—The Department of Chemistry and Chemical Engineering of the A. and M. College of Texas took a long stride forward when they recently placed an order for complete equipment for refining, bleaching and deodorizing crude cottonseed oil. A course in cottonseed oil refining has been given at the College for several years but the work has been sadly handicapped by the lack of laboratory space and equipment.

The new equipment will be a small size cottonseed oil refinery complete in every detail. It includes machinery for refining, bleaching and deodorizing the oil. Under the new plan of instruction senior students of chemical engineering will take the raw, dark, foul smelling cottonseed oil as it comes from the crushers, treat it in the laboratory to refine it, putting through the bleaching process, deodorize it and finally turn out the finished product as clear, pure, wholesome shortening, ready for cooking purposes and pure salad oil, ready to use in preparing salads. Every man will learn by doing, the minute processes involved in the refining of cottonseed oil into the finished product. This is no special laboratory equipment that is being ordered, but a small scale refinery and when a senior class has finished a year's work in this course he will have mastered the fundamental principles of cottonseed oil refining and will have gained actual experience in the operation of the machinery that is used in a complete refinery.

Soap Making Also. In addition to the refining of cottonseed oil, a thorough course in soap-making will also be given. Equipment has been ordered by which the soap stocks, left as a by-product in the refining of the cottonseed oil, will be taken and converted into high quality soaps. Senior students will do this work also, thus learning the factory methods of manufacturing high grade soap. With only scrap equipment, students last year made laundry soap equal in quality to that of any factory-made soap on the market, and with the new equipment an even better quality of product is expected.

More Equipment Soon. While most of the machinery is being purchased outright by the department, the York Company of York, Pennsylvania has donated a two-ton ammonia compressor and refrigeration unit complete to be used in the making of high quality salad oil.

To further strengthen the course in cottonseed oil refining, Dr. C. C. Hedges, head of the department, has arranged to continue the series of lectures established by the Cottonseed Crushers' Association of Texas, covering the various phases of the cottonseed oil industry. The men who come here from time to time to give these lectures are experts in their line of work and leaders in the industry.

At an early date the department intends to add other equipment with which they can start with the seed cotton and carry it thru all the processes until it emerges as the finished product in the form of cotton, cloth, refined cottonseed oil, soap and kindred products. This is the beginning of the establishment of a four year course in the study of cotton and its products.

Every year several graduates of Chemical Engineering are placed in good positions in the cottonseed oil industry, and the department has never been able to supply the demand for graduate chemical engineers.

DUE RECOGNITION.

Anyone who has ever put in a year or so in the profession will admit that a school teacher is the poorest paid employee in public service, or private even for that matter. Hundreds of them are working in our schools for as low as $2.00 per day, which is less than the average day laborer gets, yet they are engaged in one of the greatest and most important works that we have in the entire land.

And that is not considering that most of them teach but seven months of the year and their salaries can be estimated to run around $500 per year for the average small rural school. Who of you would work at anything for $500 per year. Could you adequately support yourself on that sum. The government estimates that it takes $2500 for a couple to live, by exempting them that sum from the income tax requirements.

In addition the teacher is expected to keep pace with the ever-changing methods of teaching and to supply herself with all the things that are necessary aides in the classroom. She is expected to dress in a becoming and neat manner and appear attractive before the children. Can you expect her to do this on such meagre salaries.

The first real recognition of our teachers that has come in a long time is the organization at Tyler of the Teachers' Aid Society, a charter for which has been granted in Texas. The purpose of this organization, as stated, is to relieve distress among aged or otherwise needy teachers. This is a good move and those sponsoring it are to be commended to the highest for the good that they may accomplish. At the same time, however, it were better for us to let them earn more money—to pay them more, and eliminate the necessity for charity. It will be more satisfactory, both to them and to us. Pay them enough to lay by for a rainy day or declining years, rather than stinting them and making them dependent upon charity. They serve well and deserve more than they get.

REAL SECRET OF MASONRY.
To the question: "When is a man a Mason?" John Fort Newton replies: "When he can look out over the rivers, the hills and the far horizon with a profound sense of his own littleness in the vast scheme of things and yet have faith, hope and courage, which is the root of every virtue, when he knows deep down in his heart every man is as noble, as vile, as divine, as lovely as himself, and seeks to know, to forgive and love his fellowmen. When he knows how to sympathize with men in their sorrow, yet, even in their sins, knowing that each man fights against many odds. When he has learned how to make friends and keep friends with himself. When he loves flowers, can hunt the birds without the gun, and feel the thrill of an old forgotten joy when he hears the laughter of a little child. When he can be happy and high-minded amid the meaner drudgeries of life. When star-crowned trees and glint of sunshine on flowing waters subdue like the thought of one much loved and long dead. When no voice of distress reaches his ear in vain and no hand seeks his aid without response. When he finds good in every faith that helps any man lay hold of divine things, and sees majestic meaning in life whatever the name of faith may be. When he can look into a wayside puddle and see something beyond the mud, forlorn fellow mortal and see something beyond sin. When he knows how to pray; how to love; and how to hope. When he has kept faith with himself; with his fellowman; with his God; in his hands a sword of evil, in his heart a bit of song; glad to live and not afraid to die. Such a man has found the only real secret of Masonry and the one it is trying to give all the world."

Now that the club women of Bryan have gotten behind the campaign to make Bryan the "Crape Myrtle City" in reality and not name only, Bryan is due for some self adornment during the next few years.

The apple was a native of Central Asia. It was introduced into England in 1629 by the government of Massachusetts Bay Colony.

Necessity is the argument of tyrants; it is the creed of slaves.—William Pitt.

Neither fear, nor wish for, your last day.—Martial.

SPIRIT OF DIXIE

Love of God and Home and Country should be born or developed in every citizen of every land under the skies. The flag is the visible emblem of the country and the song is the audible emblem of the land which all its citizens should love and cherish and defend.

We have been taught the country we owe our country, its flag and its anthem, and we all proudly stand while the "Star Spangled Banner" is played or sung. In many sections of the country the same tribute is paid when we sing "My Country 'Tis of Thee" or "Columbia, The Gem of the Ocean."

Our own Southland has a song that is truly its own and represents millions of people South of the Mason and Dixon line. We ought to pay it more homage than we do and stand when it is played or sung. Let's show our loyalty to the South and our love for "Dixie" by rising to our feet.

A northerner stated not long ago that he arose to his feet in an audience when the band played "Dixie" and hurriedly sat down when he found that he was the only one to have done so.

DISTANCE LENDS LURE.

The editor is in receipt of a letter from a complaining friend, who wants to know why it is, when they send in an article to be published that the head is always charged. "I know what I want," says the complaining friend. That may be true. We do too, but this job of writing heads isn't such an easy task and if you think so just come and try your hand at it for a day or so. And we will promise ever after you will be more lenient with your criticism of your newspaper friends. Did you know that there are just so many letters and spaces that can be crowded into one line and if your words are too long there isn't anything else to do but to get a shorter word that fits. This isn't always an easy task, either, because you must work in a hurry, can't fool away any time thinking, but must scratch around in your "grey matter" for another. Then do you wonder that the words aren't always to ones liking. The greatest wonder is that you ever get a good one. No my friends this thing of headline writing isn't an easy task and if you think so the invitation is a standing one for you to come down and try your hand and we guarantee you'll find it much easier looking on from a distance than looking off from a close up view.

CONGRATULATIONS

Washington County Historical Society has been organized with the following officers: Gidding Stone, president; Mrs. Mary A. Stone, vice president; Mrs. Mary Hughes, historian; Mrs. W. F. Tottenham, secretary, all of Brenham. All Texas congratulates Brenham in taking the lead in organizing this society for it will mean that much of the history of that future generation, that might otherwise have been lost. It would be well for every county in Texas to follow the example set by Washington. While not many counties in Texas are so rich in colorful history as Washington, yet they could at least teach the citizens of their county to know their own county and State history.

It is estimated that there are more than 40,000 men and women attending night classes in Colleges and university work in New York City. Then tell me that the average person isn't awakened as never before to the value of an education. Men and women who have the courage to enlist in night school can be depended on to have the ambition, energy and determination to see it through. It is no crime not to know but it is a crime not to want to know. There is no royal road to an education but there is no one thing so essential to success and wise is the man or woman, who realize it, and get it at any price.

If you would be loved as a companion, avoid unnecessary criticism upon those with whom you live. The number of people who have taken out judge's patents for themselves is very large in any society. Now it would be hard for a man to live with another who was always criticizing his actions, even if it were kindly and just criticism. It would be like living between the glasses of a microscope. But these self-elected judges, like their prototypes, are very apt to have the persons they judge brought before them in the guise of culprits.—Swiped.

Approximately eight inches of rain has fallen all over Brazos county this past week. This means a good season in the ground—something we haven't had for more than a year and the lack of it was what caused our crop failures. Now that we are starting off with a good season indications point for a good crop next year, so there is no use to grieve over what happened in the past but put our shoulders to the wheel and go to work with a will to recoup our losses.

Not merely should the public halls have ample exit facilities for use in case of fire, but the same are useful when orators do not know when to stop.—Walla Walla Bulletin.

VALUE OF FRIENDS.

Friends are better than money. Friends can bring to you joy that money cannot buy. We know for this morning there came to our desk a bunch of handsome white Queen chrysanthemums bringing good will and good wishes from friends. As never before the flame of friendliness seemed to burn brighter for us and such thoughtfulness has made us to know if we be not rich in anything else, we still have riches untold in our many friends. It is the little things in life that make for happiness and pleasure, just like the gift which came to the writer on today. All day, the sun seemed brighter, friends seemed kinder and life more beautiful—all because of the thoughtfulness of friends. May life mete out to these friends a full portion of her best gifts, may true contentment and happiness and prosperity be their daily companion throughout every hour of every day of all the years, is my wish for them not lightly made.

A city library in a little town in Oklahoma once gave a little benefit social evening during the Halloween season, and each guest entering was requested to wear something depicting the title of a book, prizes to be given for the best costumes or designation of title, otherwise shown. One wore clothing in reverse order to denote "Looking Backward," another wore a match, to represent "The Lamplighter" but the very best, the one that won the grand prize, was a curious pendant, consisting of three article each strung on a string below each other in the following order: a silver dollar, a half dollar, and a large tooth. When the final denouement came, and none had guessed the title, it was announced as "The Price of the Prairie," by Margaret Hill McCarter, a Kansas author, through the signs, "a dollar and a half an acre."

"Crape myrtles are blooming in Bryan" is the announcement of a splendor of beauty utterly beyond the power of mere language to depict. To see these billowy blossoms in many varieties, each variety producing a distinct color and hue is utterly beyond comprehension but once seen convinces the most skeptical that in the crape myrtle nature has performed one of her miracles of miracles and Bryan by planting of these bushes can surpass in sheer beauty any other town. What could be more beautiful than a College Boulevard, lined on either side with the blossoming crape myrtle hedges, such as we see now dotted all over Bryan. Wake up folks, let's visualize Bryan the "crape myrtle city" of Texas.

JUST A REMINDER.

The widower had just taken his fourth wife and was showing her around the village. Among the places visited was the churchyard, and the bride paused before a very elaborate tombstone that had been erected by the bridegroom. Being a little nearsighted, she asked him to read the inscription, and in reverent tones he read:

"Here lies Susan, beloved wife of John Smith; also Jane, beloved wife of John Smith; also Mary, beloved wife of John Smith."

He paused abruptly, and the bride leaning forward to see the bottom line read, to her horror:

"Be ye also ready."—Exchange.

Frank Dantone, son of Nick Dantone of Mudville, a tenant farmer, and Ludv Russo, daughter of Joe Russo of Watts, were married Saturday morning at 11 o'clock at St. Anthony's Catholic church in Bryan. Joe Salvaggio of Steele's Store was best man and Miss Lena Piziatto the bride's maid.

Immediately following the ceremony, the young couple, and those who attended the wedding, repaired to Watts station, where the celebration festivities began and continued throughout Saturday and Sunday night and until 3:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon. At the noon hour Sunday a bountiful repast of barbecued meat, bread and pickles, with Busto near-beer on tap, was served to the large crowd present, the dance stopping long enough for consumption of the viands.

'Bull' Johnson Weds Beaumont Girl On Sunday

(By Associated Press.)
BEAUMONT, Oct. 19.—William Dunlap "Bull" Johnson, former Texas Aggie grid star and captain, was married to Miss Maelen McGill here Sunday night. Johnson is athletic director of the Beaumont high school from which institution he graduated prior to entering Texas A. and M. The marriage climaxes a high school romance.

C. L. Beason On Radio Program Out of Dallas

It is rather unusual for a Bryan citizen to be honored by being placed on the broadcasting program of a large institution, but that is just what happened in the case of County Agent C. L. Beason when he was attending the Dallas Fair with six Brazos county agricultural club boys. S. C. Evans, boys' club work specialist of the Extension Service Department of the A. and M. College, was in charge of the broadcasting program WFAA, the Dallas News and the Dallas Journal, and the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation, and he asked County Agent Beason to lead the 15 or 20 club boys in the room in a song. He chose the old familiar tune "Old MacDonald Had A Farm" and we think it had reference to our County Superintendent.

As a climax to the educational encampment, the club boys of Texas, represented by the 400 or 500 boys at the fair, presented to Secretary W. H. Stratton of the Fair Association, a beautiful reading lamp which cost considerable money.

Guests of the Fair.

On Tuesday evening the entire club encampment of boys and leaders were invited to be the guests of the Fair management at "The Student Prince," a $60,000 opera presented in the new half million dollar Fair grounds auditorium. This was a magnificent show, said Mr. Beason, and while much of it was over my head, I certainly enjoyed the orchestra, anyway.

On Wednesday afternoon the club boys at the Fair were invited to be the guests of the Majestic Theatre and the Dallas street car lines furnished them free transportation. On Wednesday night the boys were guests of the Fair Association in the grand stand to witness the fire works exhibition, a part of which was entitled "Rome Under Nero," and depicting the burning of Rome while Nero fiddled.

YOUNG NEGRO ARRESTED FOR COTTON THEFT

Fred Ellis, a young negro, aged 22, is in the county jail charged with theft of cotton, having been arrested Sunday by Sheriff Jess Conlee and his father, Constable J. D. Conlee, when located down between the Big and Little Brazos Rivers.

On Saturday night Cy Dulaney of Bryan saw a person leave the house on his farm home about 6 or 7 miles east of Bryan on Thompson's Creek and came back to town and reported it to the officers, who went out there Sunday morning, found that the house, in which cotton had been stored had been entered. They found a bag with cotton in it, in the house, evidently left by the negro in his haste to get away. They tracked the negro man by foot-prints to where he got on a mule that had a peculiar hoof print. By further tracking they found the mule and also found a man who had seen Ellis on the same mule. This led to his later arrest.

BRAZOS RIVERS ARE BOTH UP FROM RAINS

Both the Big and Little Brazos Rivers are swelled by the recent heavy rains up-country. The Little river is running quite a stream under the Bryan-Steele's Store bridge. This river has enjoyed two rises and subsequent falls, both of medium proportions. The big river is about half banks, according to reports of those who have been on the scene. Frank Cunzalo of Steele's Store said the Big Brazos was up and still rising.

Navasota Gets Over 12 Inches Rain Past Week

According to the gauge maintained by John M. Ackerman, Navasota has had 12 1-4 inches of rainfall the past week. However, there appears to be quite a variation in the measurements of different persons here. W. E. Blackshear reports a total of 14 inches last week, while Clarence Moore says his gauge shows less than that of the others. It was not possible to get the phone connection with the Moore residence this morning to ascertain the fall of Thursday and Friday, but previous to that Mr. Moore says his gauge shows only 6 3-4 inches against 7 3-4 reported by Mr. Ackerman and Mr. Blackshear reports 9 1-4 inches this week previous to the fall Thursday and Thursday night.

It is possible that the rain was heavier at some places than at others, but it was at least the heaviest rain this county has had since May, 1924, and it covered the Navasota territory generally. It appears certain that more than 12 inches precipitation has visited this section the past week.—Navasota Examiner.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Krezinski and little son, Johnnie, returned today from Chappell Hill where they were called Monday on account of the critical illness of Mrs. Krezinski's father, Mike Majeski, who died the following day, and was interred in the local Catholic cemetery. Mr. Majeski was 65 years of age, and leaves besides his wife, three sons and two daughters.

STORY OF THE HOWELL FAIR

(Note—The following is the prize winning story of the Howell Lumber Company Agricultural Fair and the winner, Miss Estelle Gordon Armstrong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Armstrong, of Tabor, is the recipient of $10 prize. The judges were from the A. and M. College and experienced in newspaper work. The following note is appended by one of the judges: "This is unique and decidedly the best discussion of the value and effect of the Fair." "Awarded first place because of its economic soundness."

A lot of the people who attended the Howell Fair can quite easily tell all about the things exhibited and to whom the prizes were awarded, but I know I cannot tell its true story and neither do I think any one else can, until time has recorded its influence on those who were present and upon others with whom they in the future may labor.

For months and months, as the farmers had seen their efforts to raise their accustomed crops prove to be failures, and one disappointment follow another as a result of the drought, they became so despondent all community fairs were abandoned and nothing talked about so much as how they could possibly exist until another harvest season. In the midst of all this gloom came the announcement that the Howell Lumber Company would hold a county-wide fair on September 26th in their office and lumber sheds.

This was a surprise and many very frankly criticized its absurdity.

Monday with Mrs. Dave Munday to take up the first chapter in the study of "Over the Border", which book completes this year's Mission study. It is a study of the Mexicans in the United States and deals largely with the problems that arise in the state of Texas. Those present were Mesdames: Will Hall, E. W. Crenshaw, C. S. Martin, Dave Munday, H. D. Cuykendall and Walter Vance.

Group No. 4 Meeting
Group No. 4 met Monday afternoon with Mrs. P. M. Hensarling. The devotional and a short business meeting was led by the chairman, Mrs. J. B. Priddy. Ten members answered to roll call, and two visitors met with us. Mrs. G. R. Keller of Houston and Mrs. J. T. Lawrence. The Bible lesson on the life of Paul was led by Mrs. A. M. Waldrop. After an interesting lesson we adjourned with the group benediction. The following members were present: Mesdames C. R. Gardner, J. B. Priddy, L. A. Koenig, A. M. Waldrop, C. A. Lewis, Mary Ewing, R. B. Welch, P. H. Hensarling, E. J. Jenkins and Miss Lillie Hall.

Group No. 5 held their meeting with Miss Nelle Cole and twelve members responded to roll call, reporting ninety chapters read in the Bible and 24 visits to sick and strangers. Mrs. Will K. Gibbs led a very interesting lesson on "Our Neighbors, Over the Border," assisted by Mesdames M. E. Cox, J. N. Dulaney and Nat Allen. The chairman, Mrs. Nat Allen presided over the meeting and led the devotional exercises, reading from the 90th Psalm. Mrs. Wilson Bradley led the prayer. At the close of the lesson Miss Cole passed a plate of refreshments and the ladies lingered for a social chat "over the tea cups". Those present were: Mesdames Nat Allen, Wilson Bradley, H. R. Brayton, M. E. Cox, J. N. Dulaney, Will K. Gibbs, W. M. Owens, N. N. Snapp, C. G. Thornton, J. W. James, Miss Callie Kern and Miss Nelle Cole.

Geist, in charge of art work with the Architectural Department of A. and M. College, discussed in a most interesting manner, "Egyptian Art, Mesopotamian Art, and Greek Art."

At the close of his lecture, Prof. Geist invited questions on the technicalities of architectural art, and explained with clearness and interest many points confusing to the lay student of art.

COLLEGE METHODIST CHURCH TO HAVE SCORE DELEGATES AT LAKE WORTH AT STUDENT FEDERATION

Final arrangements for the meeting of the Methodist Student Federation of Texas, to be held at the Mosque, Lake Worth, Fort Worth, Texas, November 6-7-8, have been completed, according to Bryant Hall, State president of the Federation. Rev. Jesse C. Thomson, pastor of the Methodist denomination at College is on the program and plans to take about twenty boys from his church with him to the meeting.

The recreational part of the program will be a boat ride on the "Alvez" Friday night. Miss Lucy Gillean of Dallas will be in charge of the recreational activities.

Workman To Talk.

It is expected that three hundred students will attend the meeting, representing colleges from all parts of the state.

Mr. Hall in announcing the program for the meeting states that probably no young people's gathering in this section has ever had the opportunity of hearing such a splendid corps of speakers. M. T. Workman, who for four years was professor of English Bible in the College of Liberal Arts at Southern Methodist University, at Dallas, a man who is held in high esteem by the students of that institution, will deliver the opening address Friday evening, November 6th. into an agreement with the Extension Service of the A. and M. College, whereby the county agents working for the College will be commissioned as Inspectors of the Live Stock Sanitary Commission, and in such capacity they are authorized to issue certificates on dressed poultry, fruits, vegetables, trees, shrubs, flowers and other nursery and greenhouse products, in order to allow these commodities to move into other states.

You are, therefore, advised that this will be your commission and authority to represent the Live Stock Sanitary Commission of Texas and issue certificates on such shipments. These certificates to be issued only after the shipper has filed with you an affidavit, forms of which we are enclosing."

County Agent Beason asks the hearty cooperation of the shippers, the producers, and the public in general, to the end that this channel of trade may not be closed to the business interests of Brazos county, on account of carelessness or indifference to this regulation. He will enter upon duties as soon as the Extension Service advises him of this agreement with the Live Stock Sanitary Commission of Texas.

L. P. GABBARD OF A. AND M. COMPLETES AGRICULTURAL SURVEY OF ROCKWALL COUNTY

Announcement is made by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station of Bulletin No. 327, which has just come from the press and is available for free distribution. This is the fourth of a series of bulletins by the Texas Station in the field of Agricultural Economics, and reports an Agricultural Economic Survey of Rockwall County, Texas, under the personal direction of L. P. Gabbard, chief of the Division of Farm and Ranch Economics.

Five hundred farm operators of Rockwall county were interviewed and gave intimate information on every important phase of their business. The information secured is considered representative of the blackland farming belt of Texas. Specific treatment is given such questions as land classification and land utilization, land tenure, size of farm, capital investment in farms, farm labor, farm income, farm credit, and the marketing of farm products. The influence of the geographic features of the area and the historical setting are discussed. Of the farms studied, 90 per cent of the land was improved and of this 93 per cent was devoted to crops of which cotton made up 67 per cent. Lack of gardens, orchards and pastures and any general use of legumes are noted. The farms averaged 106 acres in size, though the typical group was found between 50 and 100 acres. Small farms, or the group below 50 acres, showed little, if any, advantage over large farms in yield per acre and a decided disadvantage in the production of a net income per farm. Only 6 per cent of the investment in farm capital was devoted to machinery and livestock, while land and permanent improvements consumed the remainder. About 5 per cent of the total investment in farms was borrowed. Yield of lint cotton per acre was the most important factor in the net income per acre. Liberal use is made of tables, graphs, and photographs throughout the 162 pages of the bulletin. The enthusiastic co-operation of the 500 farmers visited out of a total of about 1,000 in the county increased the value of the conclusions which should aid the farmers of the blackland belt in a study of their business to locate the causes of failure and the practices which may aid toward success.

DALLAS BANKERS SEEM FAVOR DIVERSIFICATION ON FARMS—C. OF C. DEMONSTRATION FARM

M. L. Parker, who attended the Austin meeting of the citizens committee to get reduced freight rates on feedstuffs to the drought area, as a representative from Bryan, appointed by the Chamber of Commerce here, reported to the regular Tuesday morning meeting of the board of directors of that organization, today. The report has already been given publicity in the columns of the Eagle.

A. M. Waldrop, chairman of the Trade Extension committee stated that he was not yet able to make a report on the bus and truck competition with railroad lines.

Colonel Ike Ashburn reported that he received a letter from Dr. D. A. Penick, of Austin, chairman of the relocating board of the Presbyterian college. The letter was in reply to a letter written by Col. Ashburn inquiring what was expected of towns that were applicants for the site of the college. The reply stated that they would be glad to hear from Bryan as to what this city would and could do. This matter was left in the hands of Colonel Ashburn to work out.

Colonel Ashburn further reported that 23,000 visitors would be in Bryan for the A. and M. Texas University game on Thanksgiving Day and would like to have the entertainment committee of the Chamber of Commerce cooperate with the College committee in regard to assisting in making it easy for the strangers in our midst.

BRAZOS COUNTY Boys' and Girls' Club Department Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason

Boy Exalted Above Pig.

In speaking to 500 club members who attended the Oklahoma State Fair, Carl Williams, editor of the Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman, says, "Club work may have started to make better pigs and better corn, but it is now engaged in making better boys and better girls—an infinitely finer thing. Club work teaches character and develops leadership. The boy is exalted above the pig. Human values are placed above material things."

Developing Leadership.

"Outside of the church and the school, a-H club work is the greatest single factor in the developing among rural youth of high type of efficiency, leadership and citizenship."—National Boys and Girls Club News.

Not Opinions, But Actions.

In speaking to the 500 club boys assembled at the Educational Encampment at the Dallas Fair last week, "Big Bill" Williamson, state agent of the Extension Service, reminded the boys that the world will not be concerned about their "opinions," but will look with greater concern upon what they do in life. He referred to the Sidney Smith monument, erected on the Fair Grounds in memory of a man who had rendered a helpful and unselfish service in building the great state fair. Mr. Williamson told the boys that he did not expect all of them to remain on the farm; that it might be best for some of them to leave the farm, but reminded that that too often some leave opportunity behind when they shut the barn gate for the city. Many declared Mr. Williamson's talk to the boys one of the best he had ever made.

Teachers Have Helped.

J. F. Hurff, principal of the Kurten school, halted his regular school work Monday morning long enough to hear the club boys, who had been to Dallas, make reports of their trip. The progress in club work in Brazos county has been made possible only through the splendid co-operation of the teachers throughout the county.

Thanks to Donors.

In behalf of the club boys who attended the educational encampment at the Dallas Fair, we wish to thank the Court House Group, the Lions Club, W. R. Thomas, the Rotary, Mrs. W. S. Howell, and the Bryan Eagle for furnishing transportation to the club boys who had such a wonderful trip to the Fair last week. You will never know how much these boys appreciated this great trip. Again we thank you. "May your tribe increase."

Prospects for Good Year.

How does the recent rain tally up with that "almamaze" crop, which stated it would be dry for two years? Let's turn to John Riley's prophecy that "craw foot" grass foretells a good crop next year, for hope and consolation. Most fields are now covered with "craw foot" grass.

Build Up Terraces Now.

From time to time we have tried to call attention to the importance of strengthening terraces, building up weak places, etc., lest a heavy rain come all of a sudden and do damage. What happened to you? We see no breaks on the prairie farm. Let us hear from others who can report no damage done by recent rains.

Prizes for Club Work.

Somebody is always ready to help boys' and girls' club work. Now comes a big-hearted business man who offers to give $20 every two months to encourage the work in club activities. As soon as the plan can be worked out announcements will be made. In the meantime, plan to have your club projects well under way. Now is our opportunity.

Send Boarders to Pot.

Have you culled your poultry flock to rid it of poor layers and "boarder" hens? After this month it will not be so easy to cull.

Accredited Flocks in Brazos.

Brazos county is now almost assured of undertaking the work of having accredited flocks. Let's go. County Agent C. L. Beason is in receipt of a letter from V. R. Glazener, poultry specialist, of the Extension Service, announcing the poultry work in establishing accredited and certified flocks in one county in each of the nine districts in Texas. We are practically assured that Brazos county will be in the list. Help put Brazos county first.

Grimes County Fair.

County Agent W. I. Ross, of Anderson, Grimes county, advises that Brazos county poultry raisers may make entries at the Grimes county fair next month for the purpose of advertising Brazos county poultry, but prize money will be awarded only to Grimes county poultry. This is another fine opportunity to advertise our fine poultry. Let's go.

Fifty-One Were On Hand Junior Missionary Meet

More than a half hundred, 51 to be exact, were present at the regular meeting of the Junior Missionary Society of the First Methodist church. The devotionals were led by the president, Jno. W. Black, Jr., the scripture reading being from St. Mark 27:22-32. The children each repeated Bible verses that they knew, which was followed by songs and prayer. Mrs. Oak McKenzie gave the last lesson and finished the book of Mission Study of China, in story form. Mrs. McKenzie has been a good leader for this work, and told the full stories in an interesting manner that held the attention of the children.

D. P. Gaby operated the picture machine in the Junior Missionary Room, the pictures being seen by 58 in all. They were on "Great Forward Movement in Education," and were explained by Mrs. H. D. Cuykendall. This is the first of a series of pictures which will be shown from time to time, mixed in with other slides. They are designed to instill in the children a love for club work, and explained in detail the process of grading, testing and sprouting of corn, and also went into some detail with girls and boys sewing and canning work. The whole was pictured as it is taught in the Cook county, Illinois, schools. Junior Missionary children are requested to meet on next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock to practice some new songs and for other business matters.

Present, by groups, were: Group 1: Mary Bess Egan, Helen Lawrence; Group 2: Georgia Mae Daniels, Libby Lynn Gardner, Catherine Lawrence, Jim James, Jr., Albert Byron Covey, Willie Louise Grisset; Group 3: John W. Black, Jr., Billy Dunn, Metz Williams, Walter Lee Porter, Boyd Williams, LeRoy Koenig, Manuel Gomez, George Gomez, H. G. Stallings; Group 4: Lenora Mae Egan, Emmett Lenz, J. W. Mrs. Chas. Marten Writes Interesting Letter to Friends

Mrs. Charles Marten, formerly of Bryan and College, but now of 2137 Walgrove Avenue, Venice, California, writes Bryan friends: "We are now living in Los Angeles, because on October 2 the citizens held an election and voted to join Los Angeles. The affirmative carried, so now Venice is a part of Los Angeles. Our Polytechnic High School group of buildings, on our same street here, occupy about 28 acres of land and 'magnificent' is the only word to describe the buildings. Schools at Hollywood, Santa Monica, and other cities are likewise new and simply wonderful. It seems like a college. We like it here very much, but I do not believe we can meet any better or more kindly people than Texans of Bryan and vicinity. While we are having an abundance of fruits and vegetables here now, I certainly will miss the Texas pecans this year. We enjoy the weekly paper very much. We hope you will drive out here next year. The plank road will be ancient history after January as they already had a highway at the other end of the six mile plank and will have it entirely through after January. Even the plank road with miles of bare sand to get off into was interesting driving. However, we kept to the road. We drove through by day and it was not as hot as Arizona. Come by the Old Spanish Trail via Yuma and you will have fine roads."

Five Schools In Brazos County Ask State Aid

It is possible that five different schools in Brazos county will receive upward of $1,000 each in state aid by having met the various different requirements regarding local tax, capability of teachers and training they have had, sanitation of grounds, etc. The five schools are Smetana, Reliance, Tabor, Kurtea and Edna. All have a $1.00 tax except Smetana, which has .75 local tax. County Superintendent D. J. McDonald is hopeful that all five of the schools will get the state aid asked.

The job printing department of the Eagle is well equipped for any kind or size job work. All work is neatly and promptly done.

PRINTING BY A PHOTOGRAPHIC FILM IS A NEW PROCESS THAT DOES AWAY WITH METAL TYPE

(By Associated Press). CHICAGO, Oct. 21. — A new process of printing which does away with metal type and substitutes a photographic film, is claimed for a machine invented by J. R. C. August and E. K. Hunter of London.

A story in circulation at the convention of the United Typothetae of America is that figures, letters and other characters are photographed rapidly by the machine which operates like a typewriter.

Tapping the keys projects the characters from a master film into a sensitized film base. The exposed film, when developed, corresponds to the set up metal or type line of the modern machine.

Many Different Sizes. The inventors claim that the photographic equivalent of type may be condensed or widened, lengthened or shortened, almost instantaneously. A single spool stamps, $1.25; advertising, $4.80; shoes, $2; record, 75c; silver platter, $8; gloves, $3; candy, $2.50; hose, $3; ice cream and cones, $2.30; Christmas party, $12.32; pillow cases, $2.25; Dr. Potter's travelling expenses, $2.50; groceries, $7.95; donation to League for moving picture machine, $5; cake, $2; incidentals, $9.35; silver basket, $12.50; electric fan, $20; Waco Orphan's Home, $250; total disbursements, $443.12. Balance in hand, $1.47.

And in addition to this, there was a free-will offering of $10 from the members of the class to the Waco Orphan's Home and a shower of groceries, that was sent by the member to two families that were in need.

CLUB BOYS HOME FROM DALLAS FAIR

BRAZOS MIGHT HAVE WON FIRST PLACE HAD WE PUT IN AN EXHIBIT.

Returning on the early morning train were County Agent C. L. Beason and the six club boys from Brazos county who won trips to the Dallas Fair: Louis Kurten, Herman Henderson, Bryan Hearne, Charlie Gerke, Cliff Lopez and Freddie Conrad. That they had a wonderful time at the Fair and enjoyed some unique experiences is the report given us by the county agent.

The boys' education encampment was very fine, said Mr. Beason. There were between 400 and 500 in attendance, practically every county in the state being represented. The exhibits at the Fair were better than before. They were agricultural exhibits, of course, as there were no cattle, hogs or other livestock exhibits on account of the quarantine as a result of the foot-and-mouth disease in the vicinity of Houston.

Harrison county in east Texas won first place in the county agricultural exhibits. Mr. Beason stated that he thought that if Brazos County had sent the exhibits as shown in the Howell Lumber Company Fair we would have been in the running for the first place honors.

They went out to the Navasota River and got caught in the rain. Their car broke down and they couldn't get out, so they were compelled to walk three or more miles at night before they reached A. M. Harvey

(Special to the Eagle). HARVEY, Oct. 22. — A witch told a ghost, who told a bat, which flew at once and told an owl, which hooted at the idea, but nevertheless, it is true, that a Halloween party and box supper is to be held at Harvey school auditorium from 8:00 to 11:00 on Halloween eve; and that everybody is invited to come dressed in fancy costumes with masks. The witch hopes all the girls and ladies will bring boxes of edibles, and the boys and men come prepared to buy them. Signed, By Order of the Witch.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Goen and daughter, Miss Icy and Mr. and Mrs. Preston Goen, all of Bryan, and Miss Edna Isbell, sister of Mrs. P. Goen, were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Goen Sunday.

Clyde has built a very pretty bungalow home on his farm four miles from Harvey and has recently erected a large commodious barn with cement floor, capable of sheltering 30 head of stock. It is built of two inch lumber and roofed with sheet iron. Clyde has been unusually unfortunate in having his old barn unroofed three times by storms several years ago, so he built this one in a different location and has tried to build it very strong; he sunk the corner posts in a cement foundation.

Will Goen and Will Rains both had the misfortune to lose their cisterns of water during last week's continued heavy rains. They caught full to overflow; the foundations gave way and they toppled over, bursting to pieces. Will Rains saved some of his water by attaching a pipe to the fallen cistern, conveying it to an underground cistern close by.

IMPRESSIONS RECEIVED BY A TEXAS GIRL IN NEW YORK CITY

By GRACE JOHN

The creed of New York: Defy the Sun.
Dig ditches, cellars, dungeons, anything but keep away from the sun's baleful rays. Disgraced is the person who has the least hint on his lily white cheek that he has been sun-kissed—unless he has just returned from a short desecration to the city of bathing beauties, when an excuse for not being the color of burned biscuit is unspliable.

Like hags spears deying the ardent wooer of wooer of nature, the buildings of New York raise pointed arguments against his intrusion. Such contamination of this idea of ultra-civilization would humiliate the herds who inhabit the low-lying region.

Sun is unethical. It is contrary to the creed of the highest civilized city the world has known. Health and happiness created by the sun are passe.

To be seen in the undignified position of courting this nebular sphere would be a matter subject to investigation.

One of the greatest modern contrivances for the preservation of the dignity of these worshippers of Pluto, are the subways. They have made man into an amphibious mole with Manhattan as his mole-hole. Will Rogers has said sardonically that rat like when a New Yorker sees a hole he grabs a nickel and runs for it. No one teases New York.

Even these underground burrows have not satisfied the insatiable thirst of revenge against an overbearing sun, of these strange creatures. They set up cafes, hotels, stores, even circulating libraries in the underground trenches. Fearing that electricity may shock the tunnel-accommodated eyes of these habitués of the dark and congested spaces, they cover the lamps with impenetrable velum. Another result to be traced to the world war.

The bright lights of Broadway only make the dark more opaque. Pleasure and money made rats, who during the day eat on one another and in the evening cough up the spoils.

There are two types of these mole-men. The native New Yorker is a shy, retiring, wistful fellow or he is a hardboiled, two gunned bandit. There are no intermediates. They do not matter. They are usually those who come from elsewhere, who were spiked horns in their home towns but a whole brass band in New York.

The business of New York is: "Sorry, the boss is in conference," or, "Oh, Mr. Smith! Certainly, the boss is ready for that game." With the proper pass word one can play cards with the boss or without it can cool ones heels in the anti-room while some one else calls the cards.

There is a weary suspicion in the eyes of everyone. No one is accepted at his face value. Credentials are taken with an uncertain gesture.

The New Yorker of the old aristocratic families is of an inquisitive mind concerning the outside world. He travels extensively, his parents over the week-end.

Miss Clara Schultz is now employed at the Texas Bakery in Bryan.

Rev. J. J. Tatum of Bryan preached on Saturday night and Sunday morning to an interested congregation.
